NEA Promotes Explicit, High Risk Behavior to Students

Mission America alert--Numerous reports around the nation reveal a reckless new tool the National Education Association's "LGBTQ" Caucus introduced into schools recently: a name badge for teachers that sells a rainbow message of "pride" and "safety" on the front, with a QR code on the reverse that goes to XXX-rated explicit material. Freedom Foundation in Ohio has produced a brochure that shows elements of the badge and provides the QR code (for anyone brave enough to check it out)

Freedom Foundation also provides information about how any teacher or staff member can opt out of the corrupt, bullying unions.

Who needs teachers' unions? No caring American school needs this depravity and these far left bullies (the union leaders). Protect children and get the unions out of your school now.

Read below and access the Freedom Foundation brochure.

State Board Takes No Action, Leaves Students Open to Gender Corruption

The Ohio State Board of Education considered several resolutions on Monday and Tuesday, November 14-15, again considering whether to object (or not) to the radical, gender- deceptive federal proposed changes to Title IX law. They voted 10-9 to table voting on a specific resolution until (probably) December. This is massively disappointing. That means that in the interim, more students will be deceived in Ohio public schools, with teachers and counselors free to promote gender "change" as a worthy option to children, and even counsel vulnerable students on a new gender identity without parental consent. In spite of the statements of some board members, there indeed are many schools where this is becoming standard procedure: withholding information from parents. The board delay will harm that many more Ohio children. Want to tell the board what you think? Contact the school board members. (Remember that some of them did not want this delay.)
