Want to Tackle Porn in Schools? Here's your Toolkit!

Developed by Karen England of Capitol Resource Institute--

PORN IS IN OUR SCHOOLS
Are you hearing rumblings about the presence of sexually explicit books in your school library? Is your public library targeting children by purchasing taxpayer funded obscene materials and hosting Drag Queen story hour? Even with heightened media attention and endless examples of schools trampling on parental rights, you may still think that this is not happening in your community.

But the truth is that NO town and no public school district is immune. From the bluest of states such as California to the reddest of states like Florida, there are no more "safe" areas. [PHOTO: One of the sexually explicit books many parents are asking to be removed]

Long Lines at Early Voting In Ohio! Get Out There, Folks!!

From VoteYesOhio--
There is nothing radical about requiring a 60% vote to amend the State Constitution. We need to rally against out of state interests and extreme groups who want to make their radical agenda PERMANENT in our constitution. Our Founding Fathers intended to make it hard to amend the Constitution: It takes a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress and three-fourths of the states to amend the US Constitution, for example. The Ohio Constitution is our most important document that protects the rights of all Ohioans. As responsible citizens, THE VOTERS must raise the bar for amending it and make sure that any future amendments are supported by more than just a simple majority.
